About This Game

Become a debt collector and do everything to pursue those who owe money to the bank. People are very clever, and they think they will outsmart you and avoid debt repayment. They can't be more wrong. Be firm and ruthless, use all the technological novelties available to you to detect their hidden property. If you manage to confiscate it, just set up an auction, show all the goods to your potential buyers and make profit. Patience is the key to success.

I got you! I got you!

Debtors will do absolutely everything to avoid the consequences of not paying their debts. Using your cleverness and technology, track down their hidden assets and confiscate anything that can be sold at a profit.

Yes, this property is for sale

After the confiscation of the property, organize an ""open door"" during which potential customers will be able check the house and possibly decide to buy it.

Sold!

Organize auctions and set prices for confiscated items, sell them to the highest bidder.
